

Rebuff Handed France On Gold Monetary Base

STOCKHOLM (AP) — Ten of the world's richest non-Communist nations were expected to give final agreement today to a "paper gold" role in the international monetary system. Eventually this could free the world from its age-old dependence on real gold as the basis for currency.

Of the 10, only France was still holding back its consent to put the system of Special Drawing Rights (SDRs)—the paper gold—into operation. SDRs were given conditional approval at a meeting of finance ministers in Rio de Janeiro last September.

French Finance Minister Michel Debre failed Friday to convince fellow delegates that SDRs should not be issued until the United States, also a party here, puts its international balance of payments in order.

Nine In Accord

In basic agreement with the United States on speedy implementation of the new system were Sweden, Britain, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands, Canada and Japan. Switzerland has an observer's seat. Finance ministers of the 10 countries were concluding a two-day closed door conference at a hotel in a Stockholm suburb.

No formal voting was expected among the 10. The decision was expected to be unanimous with a possibility that the French would stand aside in some way.

According to the proposal outlined at Rio, SDRs could be created by the International Monetary Fund to supplement gold and dollars as backing for international trade. The SDRs, it is argued, would provide the liquidity — currency reserves — needed to expand world trade.

Reject Delay

The French government, which holds more gold than any other nation except the United States, put forward its arguments Friday against starting the SDR system now. Other delegates rejected almost all of them.

On Friday Debre: —Failed to get the others to agree to a general debate on the reform of the international monetary system, in use since 1944, based on gold at $35 an ounce.

—Failed to convince others that the "paper gold" should be more a form of international credit than a new kind of money.

Expect Agreement

Other delegates to the conference including the United States, however, seemed sympathetic to a French proposal that Common Market countries be accorded a veto right, when they are willing to vote together, on major decisions of the IMF.

Debre told newsmen Friday night: "No agreement has been reached on any major point."

But an American official commented: "At the start of any international conference, a lot of time is devoted to everybody explaining that he has the only reasonable and equitable position. Then it gets time to catch the last plane and get home to the wife for Sunday. At this point, the other fellow's position begins to look a lot more acceptable."

HEW Chief Heckled At U-M On Welfare In Warfare State

ANN ARBOR (AP) — "You have not yet been challenged to perform," newly appointed Cabinet member Wilbur Cohen, told three young protesters who interrupted his speech at the University of Michigan Friday.

Cohen, named March 22 to the post of secretary of health, education and welfare, was addressing 4,000 students and parents at an honors convocation when the three young men paraded in bearing a 20-foot cloth banner that said:

"HEW—Welfare Fig Leaf On The Warfare State."

Departing from his text, Cohen said, "During your four years of college you had the luxury of study and contemplation of some of the world's pervasive problems. You have been free to criticize and dissent without being called upon to resolve the existing problems."

The decision marked the end of a strike that started 10 days ago.

Pete Dewey, acting president of United Auto Workers Union Local 206, announced the action following a meeting of about 2,250 of the 3,200 plant workers.

Production workers originally rejected the pact but voted 1,342-752 in favor of it Friday night. Skilled tradesmen, who approved it the first time, voted in favor of it again 92-48.

The contract provides wage increases of 13 cents an hour for all employees with an additional increase of 20 cents an hour for skilled workers.

It also provides an eight-cent cost-of-living increase next October and stipulates that Kelvinox employees can reopen at that time talks on wage provisions.

AMC's automotive division workers earlier agreed to a national contract.

Hunt Arson Clues As Fires Strike Chicago State Street Stores

CHICAGO (AP) — Police stepped up street patrols and an arson investigation continued today after a series of fires that drove thousands of persons from three big downtown department stores and caused damage in the millions.

Fires erupted Friday at intervals of about one hour in the State Street stores.

Heaviest damage was reported at Carson Pirie Scott & Co., which stands at the busy corner of State and Madison. John T. Pirie Jr., the firm's chairman, estimated damage could run to $20 million. The store was closed and officials said they did not know when it could be reopened.

An hour after the first fire at Carson's, firemen rushed to a blaze a block away at Montgomery Ward & Co. One hour after the second blaze, firemen were sent to Wieboldt's, Inc., which is across Madison Street from Carson's.

No injuries

No employees or customers were reported injured in the fires but several firemen were treated for smoke inhalation.

The blazes, occurring just before and during the noon hour, drove pre-Easter shoppers and clerks into the street. Thousands more working in other downtown buildings made their way to the scene to watch.

Fire spread through six floors of the 12-story Carson building and caused the most extensive damage in sections housing the drapery, furniture and appliance departments. Water and smoke damage also was heavy.

Fires on two floors of Ward's caused heavy smoke and water damage. A stockroom fire at Wieboldt's was quickly extinguished and officials said damage was negligible.

Goldblatt's, Too

A fourth State Street store, Goldblatt's, reported a mattress ignited, but the flames were extinguished by employees. Louis Goldblatt, president, said, "I don't see how it could have been anything but arson."

Police rushed a bomb and arson squad into the area for an investigation and called in a canine corps as a precaution against looting. No looting was reported.

Fire Commissioner Robert J. Quinn said at the scene of the fire that the series of blazes looked "very suspicious," but he said later he had found no evidence of arson.

Investigators reported Friday night they had found two cans of tightly capped turpentine under a bundle of women's uniforms in Carson's, but only one of the cans had been touched by fire.

At Ward's, investigators said they found three wooden matches in the drapery area.

At this point, the audience broke into prolonged applause.

In another departure from his text, Cohen said today's incredibly complex problems "do not lend themselves to simple solutions or to slogans or signs."

Cohen, one of the draftees of the original Social Security Act and considered the father of Medicare, left the University of Michigan in 1956, but still holds his professorship on the faculty.

Council Called On Arab Crisis

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. Security Council was summoned into urgent debate today on the Arab-Israeli crisis after a major air and artillery clash on the Jordanian front Friday.

Today's session comes only six days after the council threatened strong action against the parties to any more "grave violations" of the U.N. sponsored cease-fire that halted the Arab-Israeli war last June.

The 15-nation council received demands for action, late Friday night from Jordan and Israel. Fighting exploded early Friday in the Beisan Valley along the Jordan River after four Israeli civilians were killed when a landmine blew up their trailer.

By late morning Jordanian and Israeli artillery had opened up on each other across the Jordan River. Soon after, Israel dispatched jet bombers which pounded the Jordanian gun positions for more than five hours.

Newsmen spotted one French-built Israeli jet spinning in flames to the ground. Israel acknowledged the loss but said the pilot escaped unhurt. The Jordanian army claimed seven Israeli jets downed.

The Israeli army said it inflicted "a number" of casualties on Jordanians and reported one Israeli soldier killed and eight wounded.

In New York, Ambassadors Muhammad H. El-Farra of Jordan and Yusef Tekoah of Israel filed their written requests for an urgent meeting with the council president, Ousmane Socé Diop of Senegal. The Jordanian request was in about 1½ hours ahead of the Israeli request.

Tekoah asked that the council take up "renewed Jordanian acts of aggression and violations of the cease-fire" that stopped the June war.

El-Farra charged that "the Israeli authorities renewed their aggression against the East Bank of Jordan in complete defiance of a unanimous resolution" the council adopted last Sunday after the Israeli raid on commando bases. He requested that the council "consider a most serious situation resulting from this act of aggression."

Last Sunday the council condemned Israel's retaliatory attack March 21 against guerrilla bases in Jordan and deplored "all violent incidents in violation of the cease-fire."

Lansing Boys Die In Refrigerator

LANSING (AP)—The bodies of two little boys were found Friday night in an unused refrigerator in a garage behind a neighbor's house.

Dead were 5-year-old Donald Clinton and 4-year-old Derrick Stallworth.

Authorities said the boys apparently crawled into the refrigerator and suffocated after the door locked shut on them.

Campaign Pace Cuts Kennedy Voice To Croak

FLAGSTAFF, Ariz. (AP) — Nearing exhaustion, Sen. Robert F. Kennedy leaves the presidential campaign trail today after nearly two weeks covering almost one third of the United States.

His face is drawn, pale and haggard. His voice is scarcely more than a croak and has lost most of the Kennedy inflections that have helped to galvanize the tens of thousands who have poured out to hear him.

He flew on a small, cramped plane Friday night from Window Rock, headquarters of the vast Navajo reservation, to this Republican territory in northern Arizona.

When he tried to talk to a reporter, his wife, Ethel, leaned across the narrow aisle and said, "Don't Bobby. You've got to speak all day tomorrow."

So he pulled out a felt-tipped pen and scrawled notes on a yellow legal pad. Asked whether he wanted scotch or bourbon, he wearily outlined a "B" in the air with his finger as the plane drowned over the desolate countryside.

He was two hours behind schedule. When he arrived at Flagstaff, nearly half the crowd that had collected to see him had gone home as the night drew cooler.

Kennedy shook hands mechanically with the official county Democratic delegation, then plodded over to a circular bandstand and up the rotting steps to a microphone which didn't work. A small band played noisily and off key.

Someone handed him a bullhorn. It didn't work, either. So he whispered remarks to William Mahoney of Phoenix, ambassador to Ghana under President John F. Kennedy, and Mahoney shouted them to the crowd. Even in the absence of the Kennedy sound, they cheered loudly.

"Tell them not to go. I'd like to shake their hands," Kennedy whispered, and Mahoney did.

Then the New York challenger to President Johnson pushed along the airport fence, repeating a ritual that has gone on at 30 places since he announced his candidacy two weeks ago.

He pushed forward, Ethel shivering and smiling at his side. He touched hands, croaked "thank you," countless times, climbed into the inevitable motorcade of rented cars, and went to a motel for some sleep.

LBJ To Outline Viet War Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) President Johnson announced today he will address the nation over nationwide television and radio Sunday night to outline decisions he has made on military policy in Vietnam.

Johnson, summoning reporters to a sun-drenched news conference in the White House Rose Garden, said he would speak at 9 p.m. EST from his oval office.

The chief executive indicated he would deal with such questions as troop levels, a possible partial mobilization of National Guardsmen and reservists and a request to Congress for more money for the war.

But he said flatly he will not announce a successor to Gen. William C. Westmoreland as U.S. military commander in Vietnam. Westmoreland is becoming Army chief of staff.

Another F111A Down In Asia

SAIGON AP—A second F111A has crashed while on a flight in southeast Asia, a U.S. air force spokesman announced early Sunday.

A two-sentence announcement said: "A second F111A crashed in Southeast Asia yesterday (Saturday) after an in-flight emergency. The two crewmen have been rescued."

The swinging supersonic jets went into action in Vietnam last Monday, striking southern areas of North Vietnam.

One of the $6 million planes vanished Thursday. North Vietnam claimed its forces shot it down.

U.S. officials have said the first plane was overdue on a mission in Southeast Asia.

Ferency's Vote Hinges On Change In LBJ Policies

FLINT (AP)—Zolton Ferency former Michigan Democratic party chairman, said Friday that if President Johnson wins the Democratic nomination for re-election without changing his policies or tactics he won't get Ferency's vote.

The fiery Ferency said in an interview at University of Michigan Flint College that he would not vote Republican. He said that if Johnson was the Democratic nominee and his policies were the same "I'd take a vacation" on election day.

Johnson said his speech will spell out in general terms "the government's position and the course the government intends to take" in Vietnam. He said he will "announce some actions I propose to take."

Possible Call-Ups

The President indicated possible military call-ups and a supplemental appropriations request would figure in his talk when, responding to a question, he said the administration envisioned nothing like call-ups of hundreds of thousands of men.

He also said the supplemental defense money request would add up to "a few billion" dollars and nothing like figures of $10 billion to $20 billion which he said had figured in public speculation.

Johnson's address is on the same day former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, who may be his challenger in November's presidential election, has scheduled a network radio speech to outline his views on Vietnam.

Entire Fiscal Policy

It also will precede by two days the Democratic presidential primary in Wisconsin where Johnson faces a strong challenge from Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota.

That Johnson's speech might range beyond Vietnam was indicated when he volunteered he will give his views "on the entire fiscal policy."

He took the occasion to again urge a 10 per cent income tax surcharge as, he said, the best way to counter rising prices.

At the outset, the President was asked whether a new pause in the bombing of North Vietnam was contemplated. He said he did not feel he should speculate about that while decisions involving many aspects of Vietnam policy remain under review.

Reviewing Viet Policy

"There is nothing to announce at this time," he added.

In response to another inquiry, he said the administration has not completed what has been called an A to Z review of Vietnam.

"We'll never complete our work until there is peace in that part of the world," he said.

Johnson said a number of important meetings will be held next week designed to implement some of the decisions to be announced Sunday night.

Asked whether these meetings might take him to Honolulu for face-to-face talks with military commanders in the Pacific Southeast Asia area, the chief executive replied he will be in Washington at least part of next week and if any meetings developed away from the capital, they would be announced.

Reagan On Ballot

Fifty-nine Democratic National Convention votes are at stake. Nineteen of them go to the statewide primary winner while four are being selected in each of 10 congressional districts. The candidate who carries the district gets its four nominating votes.

Nixon is virtually certain to win all 30 Republican convention votes. But MacIver said California Gov. Ronald Reagan could cut into the Republican vote, particularly in conservative sections of the state.

Reagan is listed on the ballot, which names all prospective presidential contenders who do not file disclaimers of candidacy.

conditions of social stability which are essential to progress."

If federal assistance is needed to preserve order it will be supplied, he said, but added the nation looks first to "capable local law enforcement."

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., who has called the strike a fight for "economic equality" for Negroes, and who led the Thursday demonstration, left Memphis Friday but promised to return and stage another one next week. Ninety-eight per cent of the strikers are Negro.

Another effort is expected today on the order of the march Friday by 600 strikers and sympathizers.

Because of the rioting and the curfew and anxiety which have followed, business in the normally bustling downtown shopping district of this city of 700,000 has been curtailed severely.

Soldiers and steel-tracked armored vehicles took the place of Saturday shoppers.

Liquor sales have been stopped throughout Memphis and Shelby County and in neighboring Desoto County, Miss., and Crittendon County, Ark.

Driving downtown is risky. Much of the pavement of Main Street is chewed up by treads of armored personnel carriers.

Historic Beale Street, which bore the brunt of the rioting, was a plywood-front wasteland for 10 blocks, and troopers allowed no traffic through the area.

Escanaba Voters To Elect 3 Of 9 Candidates Monday

Three positions on the Escanaba City Council are at stake in Monday's election, with nine candidates in the contest that has become increasingly warm as election day nears.

The voters will pick three councilmen to serve for terms of four years.

One councilman, George Rusch, is retiring and is not a candidate, while two other incumbents, H. George Nelson and Cecil Chase, seek reelection.

Hold-over members are Mayor Harold Vanlerberghe and Edward J. Cox.

The polls will open at 7 a. m. and will close at 8 p. m. The polling places in the city are located at:

First precinct — Delta County Building, Ludington St. entrance; Second — Bay De Noc Community College, West Hall; Third — Bay De Noc Community College, Bonifas Hall, east side; Fourth — Jefferson School basement, 2nd Ave. S. and 15th St.; Fifth — Junior High School, N. 16th St. entrance; Sixth — Lemmer School, northeast corner entrance; Seventh — Webster School, 12th Ave. N. entrance.

City Clerk Don Guindon today reminded election workers they are to report to their precincts at 6:30 a. m. on Monday.

The nine candidates for council positions, at a recent "meet the candidates" session sponsored by the Escanaba League of Women Voters, presented information about themselves and replied to questions. A summary of biographies and answers to a question on the principal issue confronting the city follows:

H. George Nelson, incumbent, proprietor of a retail grocery store, was born and raised in Escanaba. He has served on the City Council for the past four years.

"The real issue at this time in the municipal evolution of Escanaba is planning. Moving forward without the long range objectives, and the total welfare of the community, paramount in our minds would be an error with which we would burden our children.

"We must be sure to follow the master council plan with active participation and assistance of interested citizens. Strict code enforcement, including building, housing and zoning law enforcement, taxes and bond issues are some of the necessary methods of implementing the plan that must be considered."

Norbert C. Murphy, 36, native of Escanaba, graduate of St. Joseph High School and Northern Michigan University. Member of the faculty of Escanaba Junior High School.

"I believe that the most important issue facing Escanaba will be the additional services required by the potential increase in population because of industrial expansion.

"This population increase will result in the consideration of many changes which will affect most aspects of our community life. Therefore a great deal of future planning lies before us."

Cecil B. Chase, born near Munising, has lived in Escanaba since 1923, graduate of Escanaba High School 1933, incumbent member of the City Council, and is chief traffic officer for the Clairmont Transfer Co.

"As industry and community expand, so do the challenges. We are now facing growing pains in the area of housing, both public and private.

"I would propose that we counteract this obstacle with public housing units for our senior citizens, we hope to free some of the existing dwelling units for occupancy."

Mrs. Frank (Ruth) Neumeier has lived in Escanaba for 22 years. She attended the University of Wisconsin for four years; has been active in civic, church and service affairs; and by appointment served the City Council on various committees and commissions as a volunteer.

"The capital improvement section of the budget for the current fiscal year has been curtailed at a time of increased demand for extension of water mains, sewers, garbage, and additional fire and police protection."

"All these routine housekeeping chores of city government will need close examination for possible thrifty ways to resolve an expanding call on their services."

Claude Tobin is an Escanaba businessman. He was born and raised here, attended parochial and public schools, graduated from Escanaba High School and attended St. Mary's College, Winona, Minn. He was a member of the School Board and served on civic commissions.

"I believe the City Government should do everything it can to help and encourage people who are willing to invest their money and build additional housing. This also includes the erection of well managed and built trailer courts.

"In theory our police protection should be expanded by 20 per cent. Ten years ago we had a police force consisting of 21 men. In 1968, with a national crime rate up 18 per cent, we are trying to operate with 20 men one less than we had 10 years ago."

Ovid Provo was born in Escanaba in 1903 and attended the Washington School. He was employed in the maritime service on the Great Lakes for about 50 years, and he is now employed part-time with city recreation department.

"My idea of recreation for families and the elderly is parks, ball diamonds, and swimming beaches in the summer; indoor ice rinks for hockey and ice revues during the winter."

"The youth must have all of the above, plus pool, ping pong, baseball and basketball leagues, and indoor roller rink and facilities for chaperoned dances."

Robert N. Bink, businessman, is a native of Escanaba who is a graduate of Holy Name High School, and of Northern Michigan University. He has been active in civic and service affairs in the community.

"In my opinion, the most important problem facing Escanaba is growth. We are going to experience a growth in this town that we must plan for. With the number of expansions being considered today, we will experience a population growth that could reach the 1990 estimates by 1970.

"Some of the questions of this growth problem are: Will our streets be wide enough to handle the increased flow of traffic? Is angle parking the best method for our downtown area, or will we have to go to parallel parking? Do we have enough parking facilities? This is one area of the growth problem that we must face."

Francis W. Lancour, 30, is a 1955 graduate of Holy Name High School and is employed as a papermaker by the Mead Corp. He is recording secretary of Local 209, United Papermakers and Paperworkers; and is active in the Softball Association.

"In my opinion the main issue facing the City of Escanaba is the spending of revenues, and the tax dollar.

"So I feel it is the duty of a councilman and every citizen to determine what the most pressing needs are right now as well as thinking ahead to future needs, and to find the best way to use and invest our revenues."

John F. Pearson, born in Escanaba 43 years ago, is a graduate of Escanaba High School and the Milwaukee Business Institute. He is a realtor and independent insurance agent. He is active in service and civic affairs.

"In my estimation, the really big issues involving local government will involve city planning. City planning that will be important to every citizen now, and the years to come.

Continued emphasis should be placed on creating a good working relationship with existing industry, business management and labor to continue the growth and progress of Escanaba. We should continue good government by striving to represent, to the best of our ability, the issues that are in the best interests of the majority of the citizens."

Salutatorian is Mary Jo Haight, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Haight of Nadeau, whose average was 3.658.

Peterson, who plans to attend Michigan State University this fall, has been a member of the senior band and this year participated in the U.P. Solo & Ensemble festival at Marquette where he received a first division rating for a trombone solo.

Announcement of Royal Oak Charcoal Co.'s plans to purchase the Cliffs Dow Chemical Co. of Marquette opens a new era in the history of Cliffs Dow, which has been in operation at Marquette since 1935.

The company, which is owned two-thirds by the Dow Chemical Co. and one-third by the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron Co., is to be acquired on April 9 by Royal Oak Charcoal, which in turn is owned 50-50 by Georgia-Pacific Corp., the world's largest lumber and plywood producer, and the E. L. Bruce Co., whose diversified operations include the Robbins Flooring Mill in Ishpeming.

This comes as good news for this area because it bolsters the future for Cliffs Dow as part of a huge wood industry complex. There has been speculation that the Cliffs Dow plant would not long continue in operation. The announcement should put an end to those rumors.

Cliffs Dow was an isolated operation for Dow Chemical, which has ventured into widely diversified chemical operations around the world. As Dow Chemical's only charcoal briquette plant, Cliffs Dow did not fit into the Dow Chemical's long range plans quite as well as its other properties.

But it appears to fit very well into the plans of Royal Oak Charcoal, which is a nationally-known producer and marketer of charcoal briquettes. It markets more than 30,000 tons of Royal Oak and Charlets brands of charcoal briquettes each year. Its briquettes enjoy particularly strong sales in the South and West, while Cliffs Dow's product, Cliffchar, is strong in the North and Midwest. Marketing of Royal Oak and Cliffs Dow charcoal products under a single system should strengthen the competitive position of both.

Cliffs Dow's role in the economy of the Marquette area is an important one. It employs about 325 persons at its plant and pays about $1,500,000 annually in salaries and fringe benefits. In addition, about 300 suppliers throughout the Upper Peninsula derive income by providing the Cliffs Dow plant with chemical wood. Ordinarily, another $1,000,000 is spent annually by Cliffs Dow for wood for its plant and for transportation of the wood to Marquette.

The Cliffs Dow sale to Georgia-Pacific and Bruce is significant for several reasons to the Upper Peninsula's wood industry economy.

1. It increases assurance of continuation of the wood chemical and charcoal business in the Upper Peninsula, which suffered loss of a big chemical wood market when Kingsford Chemical Co. moved to Kentucky to get cheaper wood. A trash wood market is vital to a sound forest industry. Cull hardwoods do not bring high prices to producers, but they make possible forest stand improvement by paying for it.

2. It deepens the relationship of Upper Peninsula wood industry and the national wood industry. This is a relationship much needed. The Upper Peninsula has suffered for lack of it since the harvest of its primeval forests in the first wave of lumbering.

The many little operations in the forests were a natural result of the efforts to convert wood from small forests into saleable products, but this system lacked ties to giantism in American industry. Traffic in wood products depended chiefly upon large suppliers. Names like Weyerhaeuser and Georgia-Pacific became as familiar in forest industry as General Motors, Ford and Chrysler in automotive industry. Huge volume operations made possible forest management, wood products research, promotion and sales programs that were beyond the means of little businesses.

It is the best kind of news that Upper Peninsula forest lands are to be related to another huge industry. Coming with the expansion of Mead Corp.'s big investment in the Upper Peninsula, both in forest lands and in a modern sawmill, and with Cleveland Cliffs Iron Co. plans to make its pulpwood available to a new paper mill of Oxford Paper Co. (Ethyl Corp.) in the Munising area, and proposal for a new wood industry complex in the Copper Country, the U. P. has prospect of much more intensive forest management.

The likelihood is that we are seeing the beginning of a change which will, over the next generation, end the "wild land" look of the back country and make the evidences of forest management evident everywhere. There's nothing that will increase interest in trees like the knowledge that they can be sold for money.

Dollar Problem Is Not Only Gold Run

By RAY CROMLEY

BANGKOK (NEA) — Spot checks in several Middle East cities, travel in Pakistan, Laos and Thailand and talks with Indians, Japanese and trade representatives from the half dozen other countries operating in this part of the world make it clear the dollar problem is much more than a run on gold.

The fact is the United States is being undersold on the world markets because U. S. products are too high in price, because foreign companies and their salesmen are more adaptable in what they will give in meeting customer requirements and because in many cases U. S. products are far too sophisticated, considering the local level of economic development and education.

If one reads the statistics, U. S. exports are doing quite well. We export more than we import. But when one adds in foreign aid, the cost of the Vietnam war and other military commitments and other foreign exchange "invisibles," then it is clear the United States must either cut back its role in the world considerably, export a great deal more or lower the standard of living of its people.

The remedies the U. S. government has so far proposed are not enough. Talks with U. S. businessmen with wide experience abroad make it clear that if we are to maintain our high wages and living standards, U. S. industry must automate and computerize operations at a rate much greater and on a wider scale than in the past.

Certain sections of American business have revolutionized their business practices in the past few years. Much of U. S. industry has computerized operations at a much more rapid rate than in Britain or Europe. But that's not the point. So long as the U. S. government carries a much heavier aid-military burden than our competitors and maintains a higher standard of living, we must make up for these costs by an extensive overhaul of our industry.

The new equipment is available, in production or on the drawing boards, which could revolutionize operations and cut costs sharply in wide sections of American manufacturing and commerce.

Electronic computers are now available to operate the machinery, adjust the output to orders, compute the amount of stocks needed, reorder supplies, survey the future markets, keep books and payrolls and perform many of the routine management decisions in wide areas of American industry now operating partially or wholly by precomputer methods.

Management as well as blue collar costs could be cut sharply. The production of waste or faulty materials, which must be scrapped and thus add to costs, could be cut dramatically. A wider variety of products would be possible. The widening of markets should prevent an increase in unemployment.

For the most part, the computer concepts are not just laboratory ideas. Many companies are using some of these concepts already. Some companies have adopted almost all of the newer techniques which have so far proven out. Some firms, in fact, have overcom-puterized before they knew what they were doing, and have lost efficiency in the process.

But a sizeable section of U. S. industry has not advanced at the rate necessary to compete successfully with foreign firms in wide areas of the world.

One example will illustrate the point. A Japanese manufacturer this reporter knows well said he had been offered a chance to buy a large U. S. textile firm at an attractive price. But he found the efficiency of operations so low he didn't consider the investment worth-while.

Tax advantages are granted for modernization. Perhaps these should be increased. Perhaps other incentives are needed. But something must be done. The run on gold is not the basic problem; the ability to compete is at the root of our current crisis.

New Navy, Marines Make Red Menace

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Soviet Russia's expansion of her conventional naval forces and her creation of a vigorous conventional Marine Corps may prove a greater threat for World War III than her current strong nuclear missile build-up.

That war danger is increased by Moscow's newly developed plans for vigorous conventional imperialist-type probing of Asian, Mediterranean and Middle Eastern soft spots. In this probing Moscow works with ambitious dictators eager to expand or with any other group which has any prospects of increasing its power and is willing to join the Russians for whatever reasons.

These dangers are now being discussed in the greatest detail as the Defense Department and the State Department look ahead at tomorrow's problems. The greatest dangers, experts think, lie partly in the sharp confrontation of U. S. and Soviet troops meeting face to face in future Korean and Vietnam-type battlefields.

The Soviet Union has been very careful in the past in most cases to keep its troops and its naval forces in the background, except in its border satellites.

In Korea, for example, U. S. troops fought openly. Russian advisers, technical officers and NCOs were heavily disguised. In Berlin, most Russian harassment was through the use of East German troops.

Russians have kept in the background in Hanói.

This Russian caution has made the open meeting of any Soviet and U. S. troops in battle highly unlikely.

This situation now apparently is changing.

Soviet military advisors in Egypt now work relatively open in their operations and "buzzing" of U. S. warships in the Mediterranean and in the seas near Japan.

The new Soviet Marine Corps is clearly designed for over-seas operation.

If and when Soviet and American troops meet in a future Korea or Vietnam, it will become more difficult to ward

Win At Bridge
Grand Slams Hard To Bid

By JACOBY & SON

Hand analysis table showing North, South, East, and West hands with card counts and bidding information.

There is a reason why when an International Match Point team-of-four game that shows four experts at their best and worst. Everyone at the table had some words of criticism for his partner although the final result was the perfect one. North and South bid their laydown grand slam and East and West saved at seven hearts.

The interesting feature is that North and South were not vulnerable while East and West were.

The minor suit grand slam is a cinch and North-South would have scored 1,440 if they had been allowed to play it. West had to lose four tricks at his seven heart contract but minus 1,100 represented a 340 point saving.

We are going to dismiss East's criticism of West as rather silly. As for West's criticism of East we have to go along. West felt that East should have kept out of the bidding entirely and let South play at six diamonds which would have netted him a mere 940 points.

North and South felt that they should have reached seven under their own steam and that if they had done so, East and West might not have found the vulnerable save. North thought that South should have bid four clubs instead of three at his second turn to bid. South felt that North should have bid seven diamonds directly over six.

South said, "My six diamond response to your Blackwood four no-trump showed one ace and a valuable void. That void had to be in hearts because you had cue bid spades."

We sort of agree with everybody but must point out that grand slams are always hard to bid and that at the other table South played at six diamonds.

Q- The bidding has been: West 3♠ North 4♠ East 5♠ South 6♠. What do you bid?

A- You bid 7♠. Bid five no-trump and ask for kings or you might jump right to seven and hope that your partner has third round heart control. We slightly favor the conservative five no-trump.

TODAY'S QUESTION: What do you bid as dealer with: ♠6 ♣AKQ654 ♠KQJ1074

Girl With Brains Is Told To Use Them

Dear Ann: I have an unusual problem. Too many brains. It all started when I was in the 7th grade. The teachers decided I was too smart for the 7th grade so they promoted me to the 8th. I didn't like the kids in the 8th grade because all my friends were in the 7th. I did well academically but I was unhappy emotionally.

When it came time to choose my 9th grade subjects, I wanted to take a business course, but my counselor and my mother decided I HAD to go to college so they forced me to take subjects to prepare me.

Now I have to choose 10th grade subjects and we are fighting again. I told them I did not ask to be put in the genius class and that I hate algebra and trigonometry. I've already had work that some of the other kids won't get until 11th and 12th grade. Why won't they let me take the business course? I want to be a secretary, not a math professor. Now I know why kids drop out. — RELUCTANT MISS EINSTEIN

Dear Miss E.: For a girl who has all those brains you are plenty dumb. Your mother and your counselor want you to stretch your mind to reach — to exercise your cerebral muscles, girl! If you want to be a secretary, fine, but don't pass up the chance to have at least a couple years of college. You will be a better secretary for it — and a better educated woman.

Dear Ann Landers: Ellen and I were married two years ago after a stormy courtship. My older brother used to date Ellen and when they broke up it was a mess — ugly stories were circulated by both sides.

When Ellen and I married, my brother was in the service and out of the country, so that solved the problem of whether or not to have him at the wedding. At family get-togethers they barely speak.

Now my brother has announced that he is going to be married and he wants me to be his best man. Ellen says she will not attend the wedding and that if I had the proper respect for her I wouldn't go either. I don't want to hurt my wife, but if I turn my brother down it will be the end of our friendship and my mother will be heart sick. What is the right thing to do? — NICK

Dear Nick: Tell your brother you accept. If Ellen doesn't want

VOTE

I would, as a graduate of Bay de Noc Community College, request the voters of Delta County to vote "yes" on the proposal to raise 1 1/2 mills for college operations.

People are always complaining about raising taxes, and I do not like taxes any more than anyone else does. However, we have to take a look at what benefits we will receive from our tax dollars. A "yes" vote on the millage will enable Bay de Noc to expand its facilities and educational program. As a result, every person in the county will benefit. An increased program at Bay de Noc will be a tremendous asset to the economy of the entire area.

A "yes" vote on April 1 will not only help the students of the college. It will also help you!

TIME FOR UNITY

An article appearing in Thursday's Press in the Letters to the Press signed by one Donald Swan calls for an explanation by the Local on behalf of the membership.

Mr. Swan expresses his regret over the "Wildcat Strike" was shared by the leadership which he now says is badly in need of change. He states — "When a local will create a future—we would like to ask

Mr. Swan who created the "future" and where was he when the leadership was pleading with the membership to go back.

Mr. Swan can be proud or not about his membership in Local 632 but in all fairness it might have been helpful if he explained why one member said he should shut up after all the Union — which he is not proud of — had done for him. Not less than three times in the last few years it has been necessary for the Union to protect Mr. Swan's job when he was threatened with discharge.

If Mr. Swan is trying to imply that the leadership of Local 632 was in any way responsible for the "Wildcat" and did something less than their best to get the membership to return to work, we can only say to him — look at the record.

Mr. Swan does a disservice to his Union and the membership at a time when unity and confidence in the elected leadership is most important. Ex-Board, Grievance Committee, and Stewards LOCAL 632 U.A.W. Maurice Harrison, President; Gary Quick, LeLand Wellman

Tom Francis Encourages Program

Job Training Plan Seeks Federal Aid

By JEAN WORTH

MARQUETTE — Educators of the three northern Great Lakes States met with Tom Francis, federal co-chairman of the Upper Great Lakes Regional Commission, at Northern Michigan University here on Thursday and Friday and started planning for a three state education project for federal financing.

The Upper Great Lakes Regional Commission is the Lake States' "Little Appalachia" program to use federal seed money to stimulate the economy. There are five other such programs underway in the nation, with Appalachia as the bellwether and already federally financed to the tune of a billion dollars.

Francis represents the federal government on the commission and the governors of the three states are the other members.

U. P. Committeemen
Phillip K. Bailey of the Michigan Department of Education Division of Vocational Education presided at the sessions attended by 30 education and development agency officials.

The group agreed on 23 needs of the area that should be considered in a regional education assistance plan and named a committee of 6 to work with Bailey and Robert Pangborn of the Division of Vocational Education on the plan. The U. P. committeemen are Supt. Edwin Wuehle of the Manistique area schools; Lawrence Varda, director of vocational education in the Breitung (Kingsford) Township schools; and Frank Mead, superintendent of the

Tom Francis

Marquette-Alger Intermediate School District.

High priority needs named include vocational counseling, expanded educational media (instructional TV, printing centers, etc.), a technical assistance team to study school problems in depth, vocational training centers, etc.

Three State Plan
The regional education assistance plan developed by the Michigan group will be submitted to similar groups in Wisconsin and Minnesota as a nucleus for a regional plan for submission to the Regional Commission for federal funding.

Federal Co-Chairman Francis was asked about prospect of federal funding, apart from study funds now available, and said "There's no prayer of any money this year with the position of Mills, Byrnes, Proxmire, McClellan and the others on the budget, but I think that next year or the year after we should get into major funding. Let's have the plan ready so that when the money comes we're ready to move."

The federal funds, he said, could be used for both capital outlay in the construction of schools and training facilities and for operation of such facilities. They could be used for transportation, too, it was explained when there was a suggestion that the plan should come up with some bang-up mechanic schools and other training centers instead of many mediocre ones and that this would mean travel to central schools.

Pioneering Venture
While the heavy accent in the NMIU conference here was on use of Regional Commission aid in vocational instruction and job training it was not limited to that. Francis urged a flexible program of educational aid and said that an injection of fresh ideas was needed, as well as experience.

"If we bring this off," said Thomas "we're going to influence the other regional commissions in their educational offerings. Their idea is to hire a university and a consulting firm, but we're not going to do that in the Lake States. Our way is harder and slower, but it promises to get at the heart of the problem and to solve it."

Conferees said that besides job training there was regional need for cultural enrichment by education. Sports are well served in the region, said conferees, but there is need for more good libraries, for more music and theater and the other arts.

Highway Program
Thomas described education as a field which had "dropped through the slots" in early planning of the Commission for development of the region. There has been great accent on highway construction as an economic bolster to the area and a special boost for the recreational industry. The commission is proposing a funding of 70 per cent federal and 30 per cent state for highway construction in the region, as in Appalachia, the impoverished area in the southeastern United States which is getting such massive federal economic aid.

The usual ratio for federal aid to states on highways is 50-50. On the interstate Highway System the ratio is 90-10, with the states paying the little end, but the Upper Peninsula has only 50 miles of such construction funneling travelers from the Mackinac Bridge into Canada at Sault Ste. Marie.

Red Germany Fears Reform

BERLIN (AP) — The East German Communist government stands to lose more than any other East block regime in the liberalization drive sweeping Czechoslovakia.

East Germany's awareness of its dilemma is reflected in the open discord that has erupted between it and the Czech government, unprecedented in Communist bloc relations.

Czech Foreign Minister Václav David summoned East Germany's ambassador to relay Prague's objections to a speech by Kurt Hager, a member of the East German party's politburo.

Hager had publicly criticized Prague's drive for "socialistic democratization" as playing into the hands of West German attempts to split the Communist camp.

In 20 years in power, the East German government, headed by Walter Ulbricht, has developed full diplomatic relations only with fellow Communist governments. Since the Berlin wall went up in 1961, East Germans have been able to go to the West only by risking the gunfire of border guards.

Should the Czechs, for example, gain a real measure of economic independence that would speed their development, the contrast between Eastern and Western orientation for the East German population would become sharper than ever.

Cong Province Chief Is Killed

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese civilian irregular forces killed 40 guerrillas, apparently including a Viet Cong province chief and a hamlet chief, in two ambushes in central South Vietnam, the U.S. Command said today.

The irregular troops and their U.S. Green Beret advisers used information from four prisoners, including a woman, to set up one trap in Phu Yen Province, 265 miles northeast of Saigon, a U.S. spokesman said.

The Green Berets directed artillery fire into a suspected Viet Cong base camp and set up the ambush along one of the withdrawal routes. An enemy force of unknown size came down the trail several hours later and the irregulars, waiting until the enemy was within 30 feet, opened up with small arms and machine-gun fire.

When the enemy fled, it left behind 21 dead, U.S. spokesmen said, including two men tentatively identified as the Viet Cong province chief of Phu Yen and a hamlet chief. One irregular was wounded.

Commenting on the capture of the woman, the spokesmen said the Viet Cong is recruiting more and more women to fill ranks depleted by heavy casualties in its lunar new year offensive. Earlier this week, allied troops reported killing three Viet Cong women 28 miles northwest of Saigon.

Spring Fires Blacken 1,000 Acres In State

By The Associated Press
More than 1,000 acres of dry grass lands and forest have been blackened across Michigan over the past two days in a rash of brush fires sparked by passing trains.

Milton Bergman, chief of the forest fire division of the Michigan Conservation Department, said today that he estimates damages were easily $15,000.

Bergman said some of the fires were started by molten metal which formed when trains applied their brakes and dropped off onto dry brush along the tracks.

Sparks from a train's exhaust system is a more common cause, he added.

He said all brush fires had been contained by this morning and that drying winds had reduced the danger somewhat.

Easter Seal Campaign To Aid Delta's Handicapped

The annual appeal for gifts to aid handicapped children and adults through Easter Seals is being made by the Delta County Chapter, Michigan Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc.

Clint Dunathan, Escanaba, the Easter seal county chairman, said that 8,000 appeal letters will be mailed to residents of Delta County within the next few days, asking contributions to the Easter Seal fund.

"Many boys and girls, as well as adults, right here in our community get help from Easter Seal services, such as providing crutches, braces, wheelchairs, and other special appliances," he said.

Wickman Treasurer
"Others are helped in clinics, camping at Bay Cliff, vocational and family counseling and in many other ways. All services are provided regardless of race, creed, cause of crippling or ability to pay."

James Degnan of Escanaba is honorary chairman of the Delta County Chapter which sponsors the Easter Seal campaign; and John A. Lemmer is vice-chairman.

The Gladstone chairman is Hjalmar Anderson. Robert Micensky is secretary, and Carl R. Wickman is treasurer of the organization that is dedicated to assisting crippled children and adults.

A part of the funds raised in Delta County go to the Michigan Society for Crippled Children and Adults, to help maintain a state-wide program of assistance. There are 7,500 handicapped boys and girls in the state, and more than 175,000 throughout the nation who are helped by Easter Seals.

Liberal Awards Cut Profits

Loggers Insurance Slash Being Sought

The pressures to reduce the cost of workmen's compensation insurance on Michigan loggers and make the industry more competitive with neighboring Wisconsin increases.

Most of the Upper Peninsula's pulpwood — more than 60 per cent — is marketed in Wisconsin, so the much higher cost of compensation insurance in Michigan reduces the profits of Michigan loggers.

Employers Insurance of Wausau, one of the largest underwriters of such insurance in the Lake States, reports that the rate for workmen's compensation insurance in Michigan for loggers is $27.24 per $100 of payroll and that in Wisconsin is $9.80.

Several agencies tackled the problem of reducing Michigan's logger insurance.

State Inquiry
State Senator Thomas F. Schweigert (R-Petoskey) held a conference in Lansing in February to explore ways of reducing the cost of logger insurance. One of its findings was that administrative costs of the Michigan compensation program seems disproportionate with such costs in other states and David Dykhouse, state insurance commissioner is investigating this situation.

Meanwhile Upper Great Lakes Timber, Inc., is adopting compensation insurance reduction as a major goal of its demonstration project in wood industry. This project, for which federal financing is expected soon, will be Michigan's project in the Upper Great Lakes Regional Commission's first action program.

Benefit Levels
The Michigan project will seek by demonstration method to make timber harvest and marketing cheaper, more efficient and more profitable.

Upper Great Lakes Timber, Inc., headed by Fank Hoholik, president of the Manistique Pulp & Paper Co., is a non-profit corporation which will sponsor the demonstration project.

Congressman Philip Ruppe (R-Houghton) wrote A. L. Papenfuss, Employers Insurance of Wausau for an explanation of the high cost of loggers insurance in Michigan and was given the following comparative benefits in Michigan and Wisconsin, respectively:

Temporary disability (one dependent): $69-$73.

Permanent total disability (one dependent): $69-$73.

Loss of arm at shoulder

(maximum) $18,531-$23,750.

Waiting period: 7 days-3 days.

Wisconsin's compensation benefits level is higher than Michigan's so benefit levels in the two states do not explain the difference in costs.

Liberal Trend
Papenfuss wrote: "One of the important factors lies in administration of the law. Liberal awards by the workmen's compensation administrators, plus especially liberal interpretations by the courts in Michigan are also factors."

"Last year the Supreme Court of Michigan held in the case of Magretta vs. Ambassador Steel Co. that the benefits payable for permanent partial disabilities are payable on the basis of an employee's actual earnings rather than upon the maximum compensation rate established by the statute. If this decision stands (there's a petition for rehearing) it will cost the workmen's compensation insurers many millions of dollars and, of course, those costs will be reflected in future rates."

Lloyd Palmer, executive secretary of the Timber Producers Association states that high benefits are not the dominant factor in Michigan's high insurance rates; that losses are "almost certainly the major factor in Michigan and Minnesota's increasing insurance costs. The rise in benefit levels has undoubtedly had a significant influence, thought not a dominant one."

Palmer said control of severe losses is the key to insurance cost reduction. In Wisconsin the cost of "serious cases" (fatalities and permanent total disabilities) used to make up the 1967 rate was $34,586. In Michigan this cost was $496,706. In Minnesota it was $311,111. "Control of serious losses has paid high dividends for Wisconsin loggers," said Palmer.

Heavy Criminal Calendar Faces Court Monday

What may be the longest criminal calendar of any single term of Circuit Court for Delta County faces Judge Bernard H. Davidson of Negaunee when he convenes the April term of court at 10 a.m. Monday.

A total of 16 cases are scheduled for hearing by the judge, 13 for breaking and entering, two for assault and another for murder.

County Clerk William E. Butler said this is the greatest number of cases on the calendar for a single term that he can remember.

In 1967, for example, there were only about 20 criminal cases considered by the court for the entire year. In 1966, according to the Michigan Supreme Court's annual report, there were only 10 criminal cases, and the 1965 total was only nine.

Sentencings Set
Of the cases scheduled for action Monday, 10 will involve sentencings.

Jack L. Deacon, 20, Danforth; Raymond P. Bero, 19, of Rte. 1, Gladstone; Robert Trombley, 20, of 1009 2nd Ave. N.; James N. McGillis, 22, Escanaba, and Daniel L. LaCosse, 17, of 1212 Minnesota Ave., all will appear at 1:30 p.m. for sentencings on breaking and entering charges. All pleaded guilty in a special session of Circuit Court March 1.

Deacon pleaded guilty to three counts, McGillis and LaCosse two and Trombley and Bero each one.

Wesley Caswell, 17, Rte. 1, Gladstone, also is scheduled for an appearance. He pleaded guilty earlier this year to a charge of entering without permission.

A charge against Rodney A. Bingham, 18, Rte. 1, Escanaba, will be reviewed. In an earlier term of court, Prosecutor Nicholas Chapekis said a breaking and entering charge would be dismissed if Bingham entered the Army as scheduled and that his commanding officer forwarded information that Bingham was making satisfactory progress.

To Be Arraigned
Five other persons are scheduled for arraignment before Davidson Monday morning.

They are Hubert D. Lemerand, 23, Mounted Rte., Escanaba, and Rodney G. Lemerand, 26, of 1229 S. 30th St., each charged with assault on police officers; Terry Munson, 17, of 330 N. 14th St., and Paul Johnson, 22, of 1008 2nd Ave. N., both charged with breaking and entering, and Ann Marie Schanno, 33, charged with first degree murder.

The Lemerand brothers and Mrs. Schanno were bound over to Circuit Court by Municipal Judge James Fitzharris after preliminary hearings in Municipal Court.

In addition to the criminal cases, 15 civil actions are scheduled on the jury calendar and 25 cases are listed for non-jury action.

Hearing Scheduled
A hearing is scheduled for 3 p.m. Friday, April 12, on a petition by Alltown Distributors, Inc., 822 1st Ave. N., Escanaba, for voluntary dissolution of the corporation.

The petition was filed by Gordon Bean, Phyllis Bean and Lorraine Shiner, the Board of Directors of the corporation. Dennis Schneider, accountant of Schneider, Haapala and Larche, 401 Ludington St., was appointed temporary receiver for the corporation by Judge Davidson earlier this month.

The petition claims that the "stock property and affects of the corporation are so far reduced by losses that the corporation will not be able to pay all just demands to which it is liable."

LOOKING TOWARD the front of Robert's Shoes and the area developed into a new department in remodeling, there is seen the new wall and window treatment that is part of the "updating" of the Robert Mosenfelder store. New seating, carpeting and lighting are other improvements. (Daily Press Photo)

Robert's Remodels:

New, Distinctive Interior Achieved

How long does it take a modern retail establishment to begin having that "dated" look?

Perhaps only a few years, and certainly whenever a critical eye reveals that it's time for some major changes, believes Robert Mosenfelder of Robert's Shoes, 1002 Ludington St.

"We have been here 12 years and while many people said 'Why, do you remodel? It looked all right before,' we feel that remodeling has created greater convenience and attractiveness," he said. "Everyone appreciates this."

The downtown retail community, in an atmosphere of growth and optimism for the Escanaba area, has the responsibility to up-date itself and make improvements that accompany the progressive spirit, he said.

"This to our own advantage, of course," he smiled.

The remodeling, directed by Al Chipman who designed the store originally, has achieved a new and distinctive and spacious look — with a plus on improved arrangement for customer service. Chipman is the son of Mrs. Joseph Rouse of Escanaba.

Mrs. Mosenfelder was consulted on colors and fabrics and some of the arrangements.

The wall of weathered planks — salvaged from an old barn on the bay shore — which has become almost a trademark for Robert's has been given new and distinctive treatment. The textured but neutral tones of the wall set off to advantage the brightly colored shoes that march along the glass shelves.

A framing of the wall in off-white and an overhang of cedar shakes creates accent and emphasis with new treatment and new lighting. The set-back of the wall has provided additional space for a new department in the front of the store, Mosenfelder pointed out.

The window has new treatment and distinction, widened and spaced to create association rather than division of the interior.

Throughout there is new carpeting in muted green, new seating in harmonizing coverings, drapes and wallpaper in accenting color and design, and imaginative lighting.

Hart Rejects Favorite-Son Designation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Philip A. Hart, D - Mich., said that he does not favor sending delegations to presidential conventions to support favorite-son candidates.

"This procedure smacks of the political broker," Hart said. "Under this procedure you take a position and then look around for a deal. It is better to have an open convention."

Hart, at a news conference, commented on reports he had been asked to be a favorite-son candidate from Michigan at the Democratic national convention in Chicago in August.

He said he believes Michigan delegates will want to make up their own minds. Michigan, he said, normally sends an instructed delegation, which seldom votes as a bloc.

Pupils Pick Rocky

HOLLAND (AP) — New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller was chosen as the Republican presidential nominee by 1,200 students from 23 western Michigan high schools at a mock Republican National Convention held in this west Michigan Community.

Vormer Vice President Richard Nixon finished fourth.

The convention was held at Hope College in Holland.

Moscow Night Spots Needed, Say Writers

MOSCOW (AP) — Two Soviet writers have decided that Moscow needs night clubs to make it swing despite the old Soviet view that such places are Western and therefore decadent.

Just back from a tour of Budapest, writers A. Rubinov and L. Chernetsky were appalled when they took a second look at Moscow's few night spots. All of the restaurants close at 11 p.m. and none offers much more than an occasional dance band and singer.

The reason this capital, with six million inhabitants, lacks any real night life is that some comrades are "seized by a holy horror" when they hear the words "night club," the writers said.

Arguing their case in Literaturnaya Gazeta (Literary Gazette) Rubinov and Chernetsky pointed out that Budapest is Communist but it has night clubs—and they're fun.

They stay open till 2 or 3 a.m. They have lively floor shows, and nothing very decadent takes place, the writers said.

So why do some comrades consider night clubs sinful places?

"Very simple," said Rubinov and Chernetsky. The words "night life" remind Russians of the immoral West, and as everyone knows "its night life is a mirror reflection of its day life."

But Soviet night life can reflect "day life of a very different type...subordinated to other ethics and morals."

"It is not a fact," they said.

Buildings Burn In Grass Fires

Whipped by strong westerly winds, grass and brush fires ran wild in several locations in Delta County on Friday, and in two places caused the destruction of buildings.

Escanaba firemen were called out six times during the day, with the threat of fire easing as the winds diminished in the evening.

Beginning at 1:25 p. m. firemen were called to a grass fire at 3rd Ave. N. and 12th St.

This was followed at 3:05 p.m. by a call from Cornell where a grass fire at the Leonard Scheuren place went out of control and destroyed the barn, a pump house, and grainery.

In Escanaba at 3:15 p. m. the firemen dispatched another crew to the Leonard Jerow place at 18th Ave. S. and 23rd St., where a barn, house trailer and sheds were lost in the flames of a grass fire.

There was added excitement at the fire scene when a quantity of 22 caliber ammunition, touched off by the heat, exploded in the house trailer.

Firemen were again called at 3:55 p. m. to halt a brush fire at 22nd Ave. S. and S. 23rd St.; at 7:12 p. m. to a grass fire in open field where there was no damage; and at 7:45 the day closed with a call to control a grass fire at the Escanaba & Lake Superior Railroad property at Wells. There was no damage.

90-Year-Old Wins Driving License

JACKSON (AP)—George H. Lumley got his driver's license and as of his 90th birthday Friday, he's been driving automobiles 58 years.

Fred Wyatt, manager of the Driver Licensing Bureau in Jackson, said Lumley's license is good only for daytime driving.

Few 90-year-olds have licenses, Wyatt noted after the spritely Lumley passed the test. Then, he added, 90-year-olds are pretty few, too.

NMU Students Vote On Rights

MARQUETTE (AP)—Students at Northern Michigan University will vote April 8 on three issues including a student bill of rights, financial reform of the student government, and changes in coeds' curfew hours.

If passed, the issues would still have to be considered by the NMU Board of Control for approval.

Donald Keskey of Escanaba, head of the Student Government Association sponsoring the election, said the financial reform would call for payment of 50 cents per semester from each student.

The funds would be used to carry out student government activities. Under the present setup, the university allocates funds.

"As long as the administration controls the funds," Keskey said, "the students never will be able to form a strong government."

The changes in women's hours would allow freshmen and sophomore coeds to remain out until 2 a.m. on Fridays and Saturdays instead of midnight, and would eliminate any hours policy for juniors, seniors and coeds above 21.

The student rights bill concerns such items as jurisdiction over discipline matters and off-campus housing regulations.

Airman, 19, Held For Murder After Fire Kills Woman

SAULT STE. MARIE — A Kincheloe Air Force Base airman charged with first degree murder in the death of an 83-year-old Brimley woman has been bound over to the Circuit Court for trial after waiving preliminary examination in Municipal Court.

Neville E. Suits, 19, is being held without bond in the Chipewaga County jail.

He is charged with murder in the death of Mrs. Inge Rusk, who died Feb. 25 in a fire which destroyed the Soo Corner Store. The warrant alleges that Suits "did feloniously and willfully" murder Mrs. Rusk while burglarizing or attempting to burglarize the store. Mrs. Rusk was trapped in an upstairs apartment as the store burned.

Powell's schedule takes him to Duke University in Durham, N.C., Monday, Howard University in Washington Tuesday, and Amherst in Massachusetts Wednesday and Thursday. There were reports that Powell has invitations to speak in England at Oxford and Cambridge Universities and at the London School of Economics.

Forests 'Ripe' For Big Fires

Michigan may be ripe for fire disasters on the scale of holocausts of 1871 and 1881.

That warning was sounded at the March Conservation Commission meeting in Lansing by Dr. Keith Arnold, dean of the School of Natural Resources at the University of Michigan.

He reported that the return of expansive, mature forests in Michigan and neighboring northern states has set the stage for large-scale infernos, comparable with those which have erupted in the West and swept across hundreds of thousands of acres.

Dr. Arnold, an expert on forest fires and former chief of fire protection for the U. S. Forest Service, said that major fires capable of engulfing a square mile section in 20 minutes or less could break out of control in Michigan if the right combination of conditions develop.

to go along with the hazardous fuel factor now found in the state's forests.

Those triggering conditions would include a spell of sparse precipitation, low humidity and the fanning factor of high winds.

The forest fire authority emphasized that once fires start on their rampage, there is no conventional way of stopping them as long as such explosive conditions continue to exist.

He called for a three-point plan of strategy to minimize the current threat of big fires. First

Need Permits

Fires are already beginning to threaten in the Upper Peninsula, the Conservation Department reports. Three fires blackened nearly five acres last week.

Burning permits are needed to have an open fire, except for domestic purposes or when the ground is covered with snow.

There is a high fire hazard in the southern half of the U. P., and open fires — or trash burning of any kind — may spread flames unless they are carefully watched. Children playing with matches are another frequent fire cause.

on his list is the need for advance emergency planning to sharpen fire-fighting defenses and map out battle plans for quick counterattacks.

Point No. 2 is aimed at zoning and occupation control, pegged primarily to evacuating people in fire danger areas whose presence increases the fire-fighting factor by 3 to 10 times its normal load.

Dr. Arnold's plan also cites the importance of proper land management to create safety islands and fire barriers. His somber appraisal of Michigan's burgeoning fire threat was echoed by Conservation Department forest fire chief Milton M. Bergman, who reported the state's danger reading for large fires is the highest in the last 50 years.

Bergman said the Department's fire-fighting crews and equipment are "tooled up" for this year, but they "could be in for a long and troublesome season in 1968." He noted that fires are already breaking out at a "brisk pace," reflecting winter's below-average snowfall.

Search Called Off

IONIA (AP) — Ionia County Sheriff O. Gary Newton said Friday he has called off a search for Stanley Schneider, 27, of Fowler, missing since Tuesday. Schneider was last seen Tuesday afternoon and the only trace of him was discovery of his auto near Portland Wednesday.

Deserter Calls Army A Circus

JACKSON (AP) — The Jackson Citizen-Patriot Friday published a letter received from Pvt. Ralph D. Denman, who the Army says deserted his Army unit in Germany two months ago.

Now living in Paris, Denman said in his letter to the Citizen-Patriot that he was a member of "this military circus" for nearly two years and left "to work against the war in Vietnam."

Denman, 20, who was graduated from a Jackson area high school near his mother's summer home at Grass Lake, wrote the newspaper, "I have chosen a difficult path but the sacrifice is still something I must make."

He said he finds it "impossible to plan on a decent future" and added he believes there is "a glimmer of light, the slightest hope that mankind will choose a better road rather than continue on this shortcut to destruction."

When interviewed in Paris last week, Denman, four other men who left their units and four draft resisters had been given renewable 15-day resident permits. They have also applied for work permits.

Denman told reporters in Paris that he left his outfit after striking a sergeant during an argument over the unit's orders for transfer to Vietnam.

His mother, Mrs. Lucille Denman, said last week when reached by telephone at her winter home in Eustis, Fla., that she and her husband had last heard from their son about the first of February.

"As far as I know, he's not against the war," she said. "He volunteered. He enlisted. We're so upset. We don't know what this is all about."

On The Sidelines

With Mike Utt

The Class A field at the 30th Annual Herransville Gold Medal Tournament is loaded with former college basketball stars and will pose a problem to last year's champion McNeil Oiler team from Crystal Falls.

The Oiler team is not down on talent either. The team is captained by former Holy Name High School and Northern Michigan University star Coa Yagodzinski. Also on the Oiler team is Tom Lemorande, MVP in last year's event.

The McNeil Oilers are composed of players that played on the DePere Swan Club in tough Green Bay area league. The team emerged champion of the city's Major AAA league.

Marquette Raish, the Oilers top opponent, will have former Northern Michigan University MVP Duane Soine and 6 foot 7 inch Dave Cade, basketball coach at Michigan Tech.

Another giant in the Raish lineup will be 6 foot 7 inch Bruce Forstrom, an NMU star who this past season was a mainstay of the Milwaukee Zip Codes, second place team in the National AAU basketball league there.

"The Rail" team from Oshkosh, Wis. will have roster containing players from the 1967-68 Oshkosh State University Titans who recently finished third in the National NAIA tournament in Kansas City.

A new team entry in the Class A ranks making their first appearance in the Herransville Tourney is the Laona, Wis. Blackwell Rattlers, an all colored team reported to be very classy. They boast an outstanding 39-2 record for season play. The members of the team are involved in the federal Job Corps program.

Wilson Suffers Second Defeat As Tigers Lose

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — Five may not be Earl Wilson's lucky number, but it didn't do Hank Aguirre any harm.

Wilson faced 12 New York Mets batters in the fifth inning at Lakeland Friday, yielded eight hits and six runs as the Detroit Tigers took a 9-1 beating and Wilson was handed his second loss.

But the 35-year-old Aguirre, striving to make the team, got a chance to come on to pitch as Wilson departed and he turned in four good innings.

Aguirre walked none, fanned four and held the Mets hitless in the first three innings of his stint, then gave up a ninth-inning run on a pair of singles sandwiched around an infield hit.

Al Kaline, belting the ball strongly for the Tigers, rapped a pair of hits Friday in three trips to the plate, raising his spring average to .361, the best for Detroit.

Spartans Win Over Broncos

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Dan Bielski scattered seven Western Michigan singles through nine innings to shut out the Broncos and lift Michigan State to a 6-0 National Collegiate Baseball Tournament victory Friday. It gave Bielski a 2-0 record.

Harry Kendrick and Bill Linne were the big hitters for the Spartans, who pushed their tourney record to 8-4, assuring them of at least a shot at the championship.

The tourney's last game will match Miami and Michigan State today. WMU's record is 2-4, leaving the Broncos out of contention for the crown. Michigan State got the only

Bruins Groping In Dark After Goal Light Failed

By The Associated Press
A light that failed has left the Boston Bruins groping in the dark on the final weekend of the National Hockey League Season.

The Bruins' hopes for a second place finish in the East Division were all but extinguished as they went into their next-to-last regular season game to-night at Montreal. And the only consolation they had was a tootlate apology from a confused goal judge.

Bernie Bailey, a longtime minor official at the Boston Garden, admitted Friday he erred in failing to signal an apparent second period tally by Boston's Phil Esposito during the Bruins'

5-4 loss to the New York Rangers Thursday night.

"I made a mistake and I admit it," Bailey said. "A picture of the play in the paper shows that the puck went into the net. I'm sorry it happened. At the time I could have sworn it didn't go in."

Barring a collapse by New York in its final two games, the goal that wasn't will cost the Bruins $500 per man plus the home ice edge in the opening round of the Stanley Cup Playoffs.

The Rangers, who play at Detroit tonight and then entertain Montreal's division champs Sunday afternoon, lead Boston by four points and need just one more to nail the runner-up spot.

Muskegon Blanks Columbus Sextet

PORT HURON (AP) — Goalie Bob Perani had 29 saves as Muskegon shutout the Columbus Checkers 4-0 Friday night to get its second victory without a loss in the International Hockey League semifinal playoffs.

The teams will play their third game in the best-of-seven series at Muskegon tonight.

Muskegon got one goal each in the first two periods and two in the third.

Scoring were Bob Smith, Bryan McMay, Hugh Harris, and Bob Tombari.

Columbus goalie Gordon Dibley had 19 saves.

Each player on the second place team collects $1,250. Third place is worth $750 per man. The first place team plays No. 3 and No. 2 meets No. 4 in the playoffs, with 1 and 2 getting the odd game at home in a seven-game series.

The goal judge's failure to flash the red light in Boston could prove doubly costly to Esposito, tied with Detroit's Gordie Howe for second place—three points behind the Hawks' Stan Mikita—in the individual scoring derby.

While the Bruins bristled,

Red Sox Defeat Birds; Robinson Suffers Injury

By The Associated Press
Frank Robinson finally got the Baltimore Orioles off the floor and then landed flat on his back—leaving Manager Hank Bauer in limbo for several anxious hours.

Robinson, the 1966 Triple Crown winner who was seriously injured last season in a baseline mishap, ran a collision course with teammate Chico Fernandez Friday night as the Orioles bowed to Boston 5-3 at Miami, Fla., for their fourth straight exhibition setback.

The Baltimore superstar, whose first inning homer ended a string of 30 innings during which the Orioles had scored just one unearned run, collided with shortstop Fernandez under a pop fly in the third and was forced to leave the game.

However, preliminary reports indicated Robinson was not hurt badly. He was treated with ice packs for a strained muscle of the lower back.

Pitcher Jose Santiago was the big man for the Red Sox, going the distance for a six-hitter and socking a three-run homer.

Big innings swept the California Angels and New York Mets to runaway victories in other exhibition action.

Aurelio Rodriguez' triple keyed a nine-run ninth inning explosion as the Angels trounced the Chicago Cubs 11-0 at Scottsdale, Ariz.

Homers by Ron Swoboda and Jerry Buchek in a six-run fifth inning burst carried the Mets past Detroit 9-1 at Lakeland, Fla.

Ed Spiezio's two-run homer in the ninth capped a 17-hit St. Louis attack and gave the Cardinals a 10-9 comeback victory over Atlanta at St. Petersburg, Fla.

The Cards, 14-6, and Senators, 13-5, are the hottest clubs in the Grapefruit League.

Oakland's Ramon Webster smashed two long homers, driving in five runs as the A's ended Minnesota's three-game winning streak 7-0 at Orlando, Fla.

Johnny Callison's tie-breaking homer in the fifth led Philadelphia to a 9-4 victory over Cincinnati at Clearwater, Fla., extending the Phils' winning string to four games.

Cesar Gutierrez scored from first base on pitcher Frank Linzy's eighth inning double when Cleveland catcher Ken Suarez dropped the throw to the plate, giving the San Francisco Giants a 6-5 decision over the Indians at Phoenix, Ariz.

At Sarasota, Fla., the New York Yankees broke a 10th inning tie on run-scoring singles by Roy White and Joe Pepitone and edged the Chicago White Sox 3-1.

Hawks Being Run Out Of Playoffs

By The Associated Press
The St. Louis Hawks, who ran away with the Western Division title, suddenly and surprisingly find themselves being run out of the National Basketball Association playoffs.

The Hawks stood only one game from elimination today after the San Francisco Warriors rebounded from a disastrous third quarter and squirmed to a 108-107 victory Friday night in Oakland.

Third place San Francisco, which finished 13 games behind the Hawks in regular season play, now holds a 3-1 game lead in the best-of-seven division semifinal series. The fifth game will be Sunday in St. Louis.

Los Angeles, which took second in the West four games behind St. Louis, continued to move along as expected, taking a 3-1 lead over fourth-place Chicago by beating the Bulls 93-81 in Chicago. The Lakers can wrap up their set Sunday night in Los Angeles.

In the American Basketball Association, Kentucky kept things much closer with a 94-86 triumph over Minnesota in Louisville, evening their best-of-five series at 2. That Eastern Division semifinal playoff will be decided at Bloomington, Minn., today.

Jeff Mullins, who had 35 points, sent the Hawks closer to the sidelines when he hit a 15-foot bank shot with six seconds left for San Francisco's victory. Los Angeles took a 47-40 lead at halftime and increased it to 70-55 behind Elgin Baylor, but Chicago cut it to five with two minutes left before Baylor hit one basket and Darrell Imhoff two. Baylor finished with 27.

Kentucky held a 47-46 intermission lead and quickly increased it at the start of the third quarter. It grew to as much as 12 in the final session as Minnesota never caught up.

Polls are open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. Voters of the first precinct will ballot at the Lincoln School; second precinct will vote at the Youth Center; and the third precinct voters at City Hall.

Seven candidates are running for seats on the city council, including two incumbents.

A. J. Cayia, Jr. will be making his first bid for a four-year term. He is presently serving out the vacancy caused by the resignation of former councilman Charles H. Varnum, who was elected Representative of the 107th district in Nov. of 1966.

He was born in the Manistique area and attended local schools. He is married and the father of four children.

JOHN PAUL QUICK—"I feel there is a need for someone with a business background on the council. I also feel it is the duty of every citizen to take part in community activities and I would like to do my share. I hope to bring a fresh, young approach to some of the problems of our city."

Maria Hoholik Bride Of David Crawford

Maria Kaye Hoholik, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis J. Hoholik, Rte. 1 Manistique, and David L. Crawford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Barr, 544 Manistique Ave., were united in marriage March 9 at 2 p.m. in St. Francis de Sales Church. The Rt. Rev. Msgr. F.M. Scherlinger officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Mrs. Michael T. Paketty was matron of honor and George Baker was best man.

The bride chose a street length gown of fitted bridal satin with an overdress of chantilly lace. The dress was accented by belled sleeves edged with scallops. She wore a baby blue street length dress with a lace bodice and sleeves. She wore a corsage of chrysanthemum and roses.

The bride's mother selected a gold knit suit and wore a corsage of tinted mums. Mrs. Barr chose a turquoise knit suit and also wore a corsage of tinted mums.

A wedding reception for 200 guests was held at the home of the bride's parents.

Following a wedding trip to Frankfort, Mich., the couple are residing in Flushing, Mich. The bride is a 1966 graduate of Manistique High School and the bridegroom is a 1964 graduate of MHS. He has served 4 years with the United States Navy.

State Hospital 'Walk-Aways' Are Returned

Two "walk-aways" from the Traverse City State Hospital were returned to Traverse City Friday morning by hospital officials after being apprehended by State Police of the Manistique Post Wednesday afternoon.

Paul Earl Enders and Robert Manley Hodges, both 22 years of age, walked away from the hospital last Monday. They were picked up by State Police on U.S. 2, west of Thompson, at 3:30 Wednesday afternoon.

Ice To Hamper Trout Anglers

Weather conditions in the past week have varied from moderately warm to freezing. Ice conditions are still good on all inland lakes, but deteriorating slowly. Great Lakes ice is beginning to deteriorate and break up in the open lake.

A lot will depend on the weather conditions as to the condition of the streams that will be open to steelhead, brown trout and salmon fishing on April 1st.

East and West bays at Grand Marais are still frozen over, however the Sucker River on opening day should offer some fishing near the mouth - menominee if nothing else.

The Blind Sucker is open and should afford some menominee fishing at the mouth.

The Two Hearted River is open and a channel has broken through to open water of Lake Superior. The County Road Commission will attempt to open the road to the mouth on Sunday, however there is quite a bit of snow in the area and the road may not be open to traffic until early in the week. The main rainbow (steelhead) run on the Two Hearted does not get into full swing until early May. There are fish in the river since last fall and it is possible that some steelhead and coho may be "working" off the mouth of the river. Generally menominees can be taken at the mouth as soon as the ice goes out.

The Black and Millecoquin rivers are open and water levels are low. There may be a few rainbow in the deeper holes, however the run is not expected to get underway for another week or two. The Pine River, northeast of St. Ignace is still ice bound and not expected to open for a week or so. The Carp River, also in this area, is open in the rapids but the shores are ice fringed.

Lake Trout - Some fish were still being taken in Whitefish Bay between Pendill's Creek and Salt Point and off Grand Marais Island near Munising this past week. Ice is candling and becoming unsafe so fishermen are warned not to risk a cold swim.

Yellow Perch - Good catches of large perch are reported taken in Les Cheneaux channels near Cedarville. Good catches of various sizes in Big Manistique Lake west of Bitley's Resort and near Needle

In Memoriam

Anderson

In loving memory of Robert Anderson who passed away March 31, 1967.

One year ago he passed away into His Master's keeping. Who gave us these consoling words. Not dead but only sleeping. He heard the voice we could not hear.

Which said he must not stay. He saw a hand we could not see. Which beckoned him away. No one knows the silent heartaches. Only those who have lost can tell of the grief that is borne in silence. For our dear one we loved so well. More and more each day we miss him. Friends may think the wound is healed. But little know the sorrow. That lies within our hearts concealed.

The Robert Anderson Family

Brandt

In loving memory of our husband and brother, Alfred Brandt who passed away two years ago, March 31, 1966.

He did no one a last farewell. He said goodbye to none. His loving heart had ceased to beat. For she left us broken hearted. Deeply we feel our loss. Lonely we are without him. Help us, God. To bear our cross.

Sadly Missed by Wife, Esther, Sisters, Brother and Families

Weber

In loving memory of our dear wife, mother and grandmother, Mrs. Robert (Helen) Weber who passed away one year ago, March 31, 1967.

Do not ask us if we miss her. For there's such a vacant place. Oft we think we hear her footsteps. Or we see her smiling face. For she left us broken hearted. Friends may think the wound is healed. But they so little know the sorrow. That is in our hearts concealed.

Sadly Missed By Husband, Mr. Robert Weber, Daughter, Mrs. Ronald Nantelle and 5 Grandchildren

As Your College Grows... So Grows Delta County!

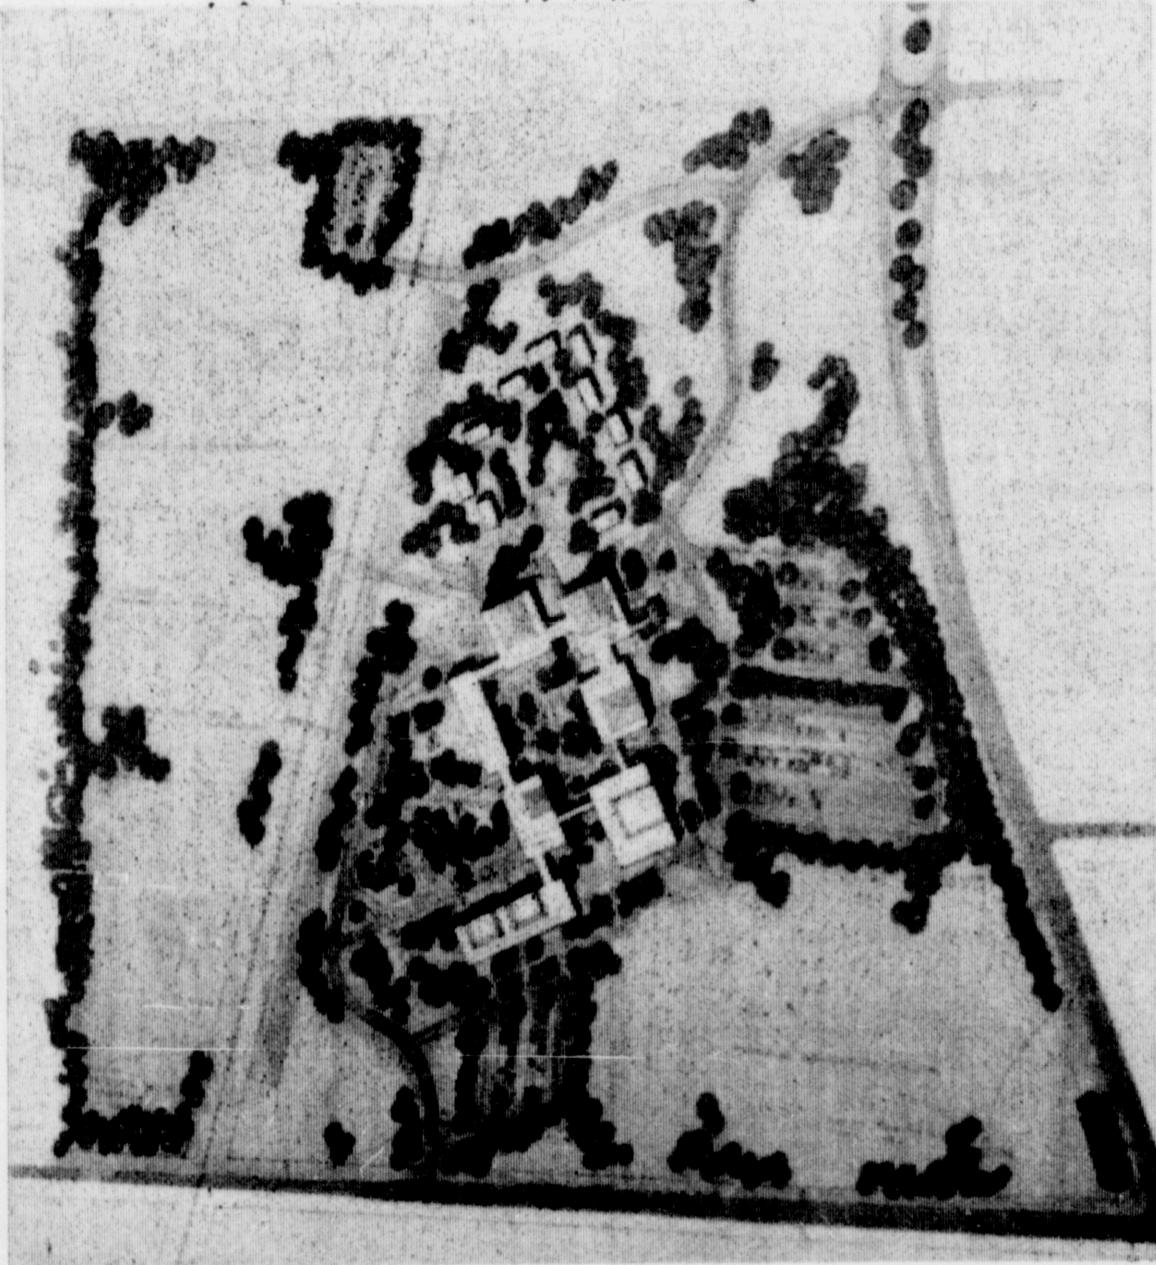

The Mead Corp. is now well underway on it's 56 million dollar expansion program in Delta County

The 3.6 Million dollar expansion program of the Harnischfeger Corp. is another boon to Delta County

The end of an era... the new 16 million dollar Chicago & Northwestern ore handling facility will change this season.

The above is the proposed layout for the expansion program of the Bay de Noc Community College.

As A Voter You Gain Two Ways!

First of all, because the college is an industry itself, it will contribute $1,000,000 to the County's economy this year.

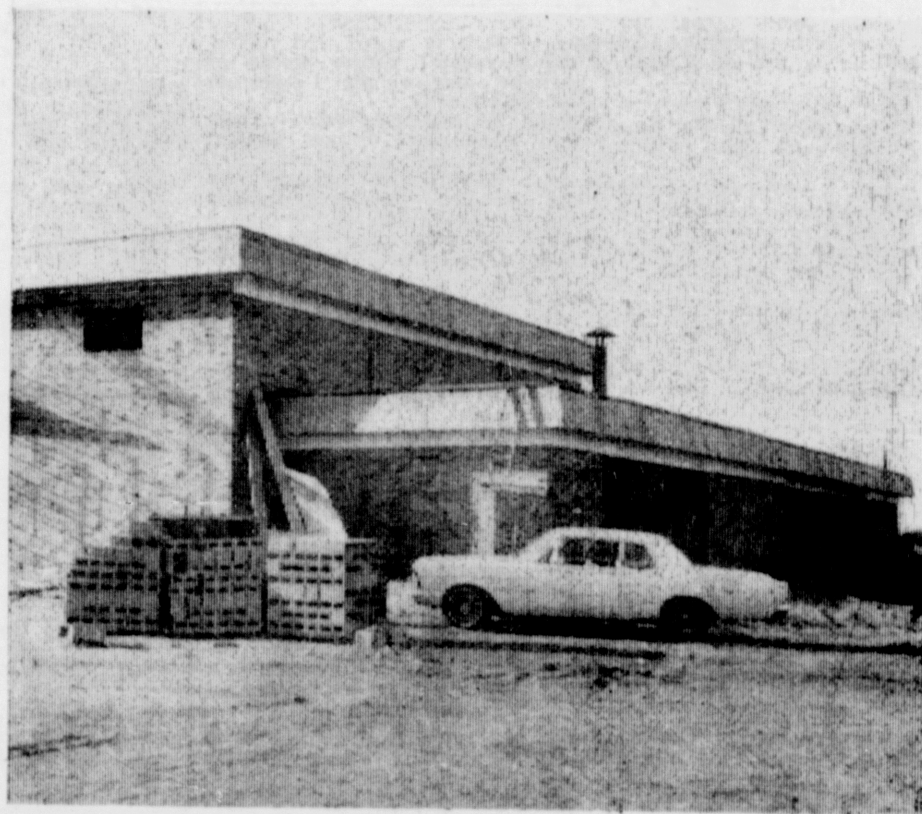

Secondly, through its training programs, it will provide opportunities for employment at higher wages in the county's businesses and industries.

Eaton, Yale & Towne, located in Gladstone has made great strides and will continue to improve the economy of Delta County.

Escanaba's Industrial Park is already dotted with expanding industries with proposals of more to come.

With an eye to the young and old of the City, Escanaba's Recreation Center is well along in construction.
